Fall 2023

Steller's Jay

The weather in Spokane was just right to make some of the best fall colors we have seen in years. Our sunflower seed feeder and suet hanger, which are usually a hub for smaller birds, have seized the attention of some larger visitors. Steller's jays, northern flickers, and magpies have joined the crowd! Fortunately, the nuthatches, chickadees, and finches are not bothered by the antics of the larger birds grabbing a snack from feeders not designed for their size.
