NEWS

Linda's painting Cat-a-mount has been selected for the prestigious C.M. Russell Museum Auction

Happy New Year! I hope you are having a wonderful start to 2012. My days are filled with time in the studio as I prepare for my upcoming shows.

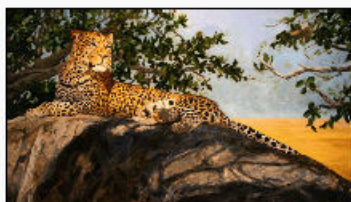

In addition to the honor of having my painting chosen for the C.M. Russell Museum Auction, I have also been selected to participate in the Art in Action event to benefit the Museum. I will complete a painting as attendees watch and then immediately it will be put up for auction. No pressure there!

Some of my new paintings are shown below. To see the latest on my easel you can visit my art blog, www.besseart.blogspot.com. The painting Tom Tom is inspired from a scene I saw in my backyard. Prime Spot is not.
